Comparing Invasive Species STUDENT PAGE

NAME DA	TE
---------	----

Species	Where is its native region? Where is it found now?	How did it get to the new location?	What characteristics help it thrive?	What problems does it cause?	What can people do?

FOREST ECOLOGISTS study the relationships between living and nonliving components of forest environments and the effects of humans on forests. They work outdoors, spending a lot of time in the field.

